

The Application Process

For Applicants

The application can be broken down into two processes: application and interview. The first step is to fill out the application and submit it. If you are an applicant, we strongly encourage you to read the terms and conditions carefully. You will find most of your questions there. However, if you have additional questions, feel free to contact us. The second stage is the interview. The interview time will be scheduled at our mutual convenience. More details about the interview can be found in the application.

After the interview, the recipient will be notified with the result within a week. If you have additional questions or concerns, you can contact us at: pcp.impetusfund@gmail.com.

Eligibility

Any PCP student (current students will be prioritized) under financial constraints needing a certain amount of fund regarding their academic projects or internships are eligible to apply. Being a small organization kick-started by current college students, our funding allowances are limited. Therefore, it is difficult for us to consider funds for continuous expenditures such as monthly rent and daily commuting fees. As our funding grows, we will expand and accommodate long term funding and such. Specific details are laid out in the "Terms and Agreement" section of the application, but for further questions and concerns, contact us at pcp.impetusfund@gmail.com.

Application Form

SECTION I

Please fill out the following information accurately.

Name
Wave
Hometown
Email Address

SECTION II

Please answer the following questions in detail.

- 1. Please explain in detail regarding your project, internship, and/or other educational expenses, and why you considered applying for this fund?

1. How much funds are needed and why? Please provide a brief outline of the anticipated expenditures. (Does not have to be very specific, even the outline would be acceptable but please be as specific as possible).

1. When exactly are the finances needed?

TERMS AND AGREEMENT

Please read the following section carefully as it pertains to information regarding what we are allowed to do from our end as well as what we expect from our applicants.

1. Please be aware that our project funding ranges from $100 to $1,000. Due to this, it will be difficult for us (although not impossible) to consider applications for funds near the upper limit of the range stated above. Due to this range, we will not be able to consider continuous funds (e.g., rent, commuting fees, etc.). This range, however, is not fixed and may change in the future allowing for broader types of fundings.
2. We ask that you try your best to state the accurate expense you are requiring in this application. If surplus money is leftover after your expenditure, we recommend that you contact us to arrange a return of the surplus. This surplus will always help some other applicant.
3. If the money you applied for happens to be lower than your actual expenditure, we ask that you contact us to receive the remaining fund by providing evidence (e.g, a receipt). However, we cannot guarantee to fund this remnant if it is more than or at half the original fund (although such a refund will be considered for extraordinary circumstances). This encourages our applicants to be mindful in stating their expense early in the application process.
4. We require license to ask information about you from current PCP faculty. This information is not necessarily limited to financial background but may include student attitude, academic standing, etc. For any issues that arise regarding background check, we are allowed to stall the decision and ask for more information either from the applicant or from the faculty.
5. We highly recommend that you write us a short paragraph of testimony regarding your experience using the scholarship. We will collect the testimonies you provided and may post them in public to advertise to donors during fundraising season.

I have perused and accept these terms and conditions. Furthermore, I declare that the information I filled out in this application is complete and accurate, and I understand that any falsities are liable to the nullification of this application and ultimately to disqualification for receivment or revocation of any funds this organization may provide otherwise.
